

PART-TIME TEACHING POSITIONS
Department of Design and Computation Arts
Computation Arts
Martin Racine, Associate Professor and Chair

COURSE TITLE: Advanced Languages of Programming

COURSE NUMBER: CART 363

TERM: Winter 2008

SECTION: Studio AA

CAPACITY: 20

ACADEMIC CREDITS: 3

SENIORITY CREDITS: 4

SCHEDULE: Monday 18:30- 22:30

COURSE DESCRIPTION: This course encourages the advancement of programming and scripting for the purpose of design and multimedia productions.

Note: To be taught to students who are enrolled in the Major or Specialization students who have taken DFAR 253. Four contact hours include two hours Lecture in smart classroom with two hours in PC computer lab.

QUALIFICATIONS: Qualified applicants must have MFA, MSc. or equivalent and is expected to have high level of programming skills. Applicants must have experience in teaching where programming is applied for the purpose of creative and artistic production. Course outline must be submitted with application.

APPLICATION DEADLINE: July 16, 2007

DATE OF POSTING: July 27,2007